Profile

Keep the profile brief (2-4 sentences). It should include what position you're looking for, what got you into the superyacht industry, your skills/experience that fit with the industry, and your vision of where you would like to go/what your goals are. Don't put off potential employers by saying "I only want to work on a charter yacht". Be honest.

Qualifications

Bullet point your qualifications, with the most important first. If you have a qualification as a PT trainer, chef, masseuse then list the qualification. No need to list qualifications gained at school – unless they are relevant to your position onboard. Use two columns to reduce space

- STCW 2010 (date gained)
- Proficiency in Security Awareness
- ENG1 (expiry date)
- RYA Powerboat Level 2
- PDSD
- PWC

Yachting experience

Date	Position	yacht
------	----------	-------

List your yachting/work experience in chronological order, with the most recent job first
 Provide a brief description of your role onboard, listing any key skills/achievements

If you don't have any yachting experience then this section will be replaced with "work experience"

Work experience

Date	position	company
------	----------	---------

Brief description of your role and how you made a difference. We would advise against bullet points in this section. If you worked in a bar your potential employer will know what the job entails however, if you were a Mixologist then this adds value. Employers want to see that you can think outside the box, are hard-working with a good attitude. Give a simple outline of skills gained while in the role that are transferable and any examples where you went above your role. Keep every job description in this section to 4 – 5 lines

Hobbies and interests

Arguably the most important section! Crew want to know what you are like, what interests you.

As a crew you will spend a lot of time together therefore if you have common interests with the crew it can help your application.

Keep this factual and only include sports or interests that you have a passion for. Avoid saying that you like socialising etc.

References

The crew agents/yachts will contact your referees for a character reference and to find out what you were like. Don't use a member of your family as a character reference.

Make sure your references are aware that somebody may call or email them.

Set out your referees in this format:

Name: John Smith

Tel: +44 01983.....

Email: john.smith@flyingfish.....

You will need at least two references.

Most Yacht recruitment agents will require a written reference. If you have a written character reference from a previous employer attach with your CV.
